EJPack

Information

EJPack is one of the largest plastic container manufacturers in South Korea. Specializing in the production of plastic containers for 35 years since 1985, EJPack has developed over 3,000 varied designs, which is the largest in Korea. Its entire process from development to production of finished products is carried out through a one-stop system.

Its main products include household products, hair care, body care, as well as various plastic products such as cosmetic containers.

The company has provided high quality and fast delivery services at reasonable prices to more than 20 countries.

EJPack also manufactures molds of new designs according to customer requests and provides post-processing services such as silk screening, hot stamping, matte coating, pearl coating and metalizing.
